(D) Circle the correct answer. I was at a restaurant with my family recently. I looked (1)(in /at// to) the menu and saw my favorite soup—mushroom soup. So I happily asked the waiter (2)(on / at / (for) it. The soup arrived pretty soon, and I was reaching (3)(in /(for)/ to) my spoon when I noticed something strange—something small and black was moving around in the soup! I tried not to scream and asked Dad to call the waiter. But when the waiter arrived, the black thing was gone. I explained (4)(at / of /(to)) the waiter what happened, but he said there was nothing wrong with the soup. I stared (5)(in / on / (at)) him angrily until he agreed to bring me a new bowl of soup. Later the waiter tried to make us pay (6)(to /(for)/ on) two bowls of mushroom soup instead of one! When should your waiters apologize to customers? How will you get people to talk about your restaurant?

Who will you rely on to take care of your restaurant when you are not there?

Who will you talk to for advice on how to make your restaurant successful? My restaurant provides great healthy food for everyone. To make the food healthy I insist on having a lot of vegetable and fruit dishes on the menu. The dishes will be cooked without too much oil and salt. If customers complain about my food, I will look into the matter and see what can be improved. Whenever customers are dissatisfied with our service, our waiters should apologize to them sincerely and do whatever they can to meet the customers' needs. At the same time I will talk to my customers whenever I can to get advice on how to make my restaurant successful. To help spread the word about our restaurant, we will choose one day each month as our Healthy Food Day. Some people from the neighborhood will be invited to try our special dishes for free When I am not there, I will rely on my best friend Joe to take care of my restaurant. Joe is really into healthy living and can always come up with great ideas about new dishes.
